push by the Senate to increase the number of black voters in a sprawling district that stretches from Jacksonville to Or-

It gave us a far more defensible position, a position more faithful to our commitment to minority voting rights," Gaetz said.

But Gaetz testified he never personally deleted any of his emails and said he wasn't even sure if he knew how to delete them.

take up blind trust case

eral news organizations, including The Associated Press, filed a legal brief in support of the lawsuit.

Gov. Rick Scott is the only state official who has chosen to place his finances in a blind trust in an effort to avoid potential conflicts. Scott's re-election campaign has said he will comply with whatever the court decides.

A new ethics law passed last year by the Florida Legislature authorizes blind trusts, but says that public officials who set them up must disclose the initial assets placed in the account.
Scott last summer disclosed what assets were included in the account as of 2011, but declined to reveal any information about more recent holdings.

Top legislative leaders who had pushed the state's new ethics law questioned the timing of the lawsuit and said it appeared to be a "political ploy designed and timed to affect the outcome of this year's elections."
